Public Review of Draft Environmental Assessment
Rehabilitation of the Acequia de Chamita, Rio Arriba County, New Mexico

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Albuquerque District (USACE), has prepared a draft Environmental Assessment (DEA) for the rehabilitation of the Acequia de Chamita near the village of Chamita, Rio Arriba County, New Mexico.

The DEA titled Rehabilitation of the Acequia de Chamita, Rio Arriba County, New Mexico evaluates alternatives that ensure the management of natural and cultural resources within the project footprint adhere to applicable environmental laws and regulations. The proposed action is comprised of features that would modify and improve the existing acequia, by replacing the existing conveyance infrastructure with a more resilient, safe, and hydraulically efficient components.

A hard copy of the “draft Environmental Assessment for the Rehabilitation of the Acequia de Chamita” can be sent upon request, and is available electronically at the USACE Albuquerque District website (under “FONSI/Environmental Assessment”) at:
